Sig Tau Old Guards and Friends Membership Keeps Growing!

Dear Member,

Our Sig Tau Old Guard and Friends membership continues to grow! When we first began our organization we had barely a dozen or so members. Today, our membership passes the one hundred-fifty mark!

If you are new to our group, here is some background information about our organization and how our newsletter originated.

We began in 2003 when Sig Tau Alumni were invited by the Sig Taus to the 40th anniversary (40 Years of Pride Celebration) of the founding of the fraternity at Geneseo. Jack Sheehan (P'63,G'66) our late cofounder decided to help contact Sig Taus from the 1963-65 pledge classes. Thanks to Jack a group of us attended the event which was hosted by our younger brethren. We had such a great time renewing old friendships and recalling old memories that we decided to meet periodically at Homecoming and other events. Therefore we began to publish our newsletter to keep our membership informed about upcoming events and to keep ourselves in touch and up-to-date with each other.

In addition to our newsletter we began the Sig Tau Old Guard and Friends website <http://www.etoldguard.com/> which contains our newsletter archive, vintage composites, and other useful information in LIVING COLOR!!! We also added a Gallery website <http://www.lbsed.com/etgallery/main.php> that contains pictures of our events as well as vintage color photos from our glorious past. With the help of the Geneseo Alumni Center we continue to accumulate addresses of other Sig Tau Old Guards who were members of the "glory years" (1963-1970+). We now also extend membership to our other Geneseo "Friends" from that era as well as current "New Guard" Sig Taus who have graciously hosted welcoming events for us at Geneseo. As of this writing we email or mail the newsletter 107 Sig Tau Old Guards, 35 Old Guard "Friends", and 25 "New Guards"---totaling 167 subscribers! We continue to look forward to hearing from new members and hope you attend our events and those sponsored by our good friends at the Geneseo Alumni Center!

Fraternally yours,

Old Guards Meet at Geneseo Homecoming 2007

Saturday, September 29th

by

Chuck Curatalo

It was a bright and sunny autumn afternoon as I walked into The Big Tree Inn at Geneseo. Not one Old Guard in sight as I made a quick stroll through the Big Tree. Not one to sit in bars alone, I stepped outside to get a glimpse Main Street still busy with parade viewers, although not crowded as during the early Sig Tau Years.

Sadly, I noticed that there were no longer any beautiful floats in the parade as there were back in our time. Instead, scattered here and there were several Wegman's food carts strung together and decorated with a few tissue paper flowers inserted haphazardly into the wire mesh. A couple of carts actually carried some anorexic undergraduates. Some things at Geneseo have certainly changed, I thought. And not necessarily for the better. Imagine today, some of our fat asses getting stuck in those carts!

A few seconds later I spotted Dale E. Metz (P'67, G'70) strolling toward the Big Tree. We recognized each other immediately. Dale became my little brother in my senior year and as a result we never got to know each other very well. Except for one brief encounter on the Geneseo Campus a few years back, we had not seen each other in almost forty years. We went into the Tree and had a nice chat over a few beers. We talked about his career in Geneseo as a Professor in the Speech and Hearing Department and his numerous publications as well as a few other important highlights in each of our lives.

A while later we were joined by a "regular" Old Guard Bob Hussey (P'63, G'67). You can always count on Bob to show up--one of the nicest and gentlest Old Guards you ever want to me. To our surprise we were joined by John Hopf (P'69, G'69) and his lovely wife Gidget ('72 Geneseo Graduate) both whom I've never met. Unbeknown to me, John and his wife live in Geneseo. In fact, Gidget has served on the Board of Directors of the Geneseo Alumni Association. John works as a counselor and still plays in a band. He also keeps fit by coaching and working in his Weight Training Co-Op which he formed along with a few other guys.

Next we were joined by Dave Mead (P'65, G'68) our brilliant Sig Tau Old Guard and Friends Webmaster. Dave's a "regular" favorite due to his bawdy and "horny" sense of humor. There are always laughs when Dave's around. Not long after that Tom Wega (P'69, G'71) joined us--another bro I had never met. This warm, gentle giant charmed us all. Shortly thereafter, Wendy, Dale's lovely wife joined our gathering.

While we were all together we talked about the "Glory Days" of Sig Tau. Everyone had stories about the Regatta and the Follies. Many of which I cannot print here. It seemed like we were reliving those wonderful days. Much to our surprise and sadness, John Hopf who lives in Geneseo informed us that the Old Regatta Pond (sometimes erroneously called Hemp's Pond) no longer exists. It has either been filled in or dried out. Too bad, I had always hoped to see it again one day.

After a few dozen hot and mild wings, a bunch of us ventured across the street to the Club 41 where we had a few more brews. Then we decided it was time to crash the Alumni Wine Tasting Party at McClellan House (Geneseo Alumni Association Office) on Main Street. There we were greeted by Patty Rogers-Hamilton (G'85) (Director of Alumni Relations) and Patty Fennell (G'65) (President of Alumni Board) who let us in because we were in the company of Gidget, a former board member. There we sampled the California wines from the vineyards of Geneseo Graduate Joe Carr '82 who hosted the party and donated the wines. We all had a great time sampling the cheese and wines while surrounded by the beautiful art work of Professor Emeritus Richard Beale which was displayed throughout the rooms.

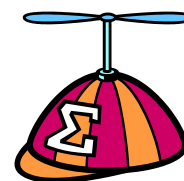

After an hour or two of wine and culture, Bob, Dave, Tom and I decided it was time to spend the rest of the day and evening with the current Sig Taus and the lovely Agos at Ago House. We were warmly greeted by the current Sig Taus who either think of us as gods or old relics--never could figure out which. We all had a lot of laughs and our blood pressures rose along with other things as we mingled with the young Agos with their low cut, short dresses. (Yes, it seems us Old Farts still have what it takes---and we don't need Viagra!!!) After draining a few kegs we went to the Vital for a burger and fries---not that our waistlines and cholesterol levels needed them. Then it was back to Ago House to finish off the kegs and for more fun and games. Then we bid our young friends and each other good-bye until Springfest and/or Squidstock--if not before. And another memorable Old Guard Day ended. On to the next!!! (picture: Dale, Chuck, Gidget and John)

Sig Tau Forty-Five Years of Pride Celebration

This summer a committee of current Sig Taus and Sig Tau Alumni will begin planning for the Sig Tau Forty-Five Years of Pride Celebration to take place sometime in 2008. Homecoming which takes place on September 26 (Friday) and 27 (Saturday) has been mentioned as the most likely date. Therefore it might be wise to make a reservation at the QUALITY INN AT GENESEO 585-243-0500 NOW if you will need lodging. Rooms fill up very quickly at Homecoming and you can always cancel (24 hours before without penalty policy) if you have a change of plans. Stay tuned for Special Bulletins for the more information and surveys. We will be asking for your input and suggestions, particularly for some type of dinner get-together.

Sig Tau Ryan Hamlin (P'05,G'07) Going for Olympic Gold!

by
Ryan Hamlin

Does sliding down a mountain at 70+ miles an hour sound fun? It is, especially on a sled with your face just inches from the ice. It's called Skeleton, and yes it is a sport (<http://www.skeletonsport.com/history/>). Top athletes perform on both the World Cup and Olympic stages. This past winter I was blessed with the opportunity to follow one of my dreams, one shared with my sister Erin...Olympic Competition. She fulfilled hers back in 2006 at the Winter Olympics in Torino, Italy (www.hamlin-luge.com), now my journey is just beginning.

In December, I was named to the U.S. National Development Team for Skeleton. After my first full sliding season I achieved an 8th place ranking (third among first year sliders), and was told I had "the stuff" or natural driving ability to be competitive internationally. Currently, I am working and training both at home and in Lake Placid, NY.

As with any Olympic Sport, an athlete must maintain amateur status, thus posing a financial mountain to climb, particularly for Skeleton athletes who are responsible for their own equipment and training costs (top of the line sleds cost $10,000). Family and friends have been very supportive in helping me achieve my goals thus far. To continue my goal of competing in the Olympics I ask you to take a look at the Amateur Athletic Training Fund (ATF) put in place by the United States Bobsled and Skeleton Federation (www.usbsf.com). The ATF allows for tax-deductible donations or gifts to be placed in a fund strictly to help offset the costs of training and equipment without compromising amateur status. I have attached an official statement from the USBSF regarding the ATF.

This would be greatly appreciated, and I am more than willing to answer any questions anyone may have. If anyone is considering helping me out you can contact me at ryan.j.hamlin@gmail.com, or if you happen to find yourself in Lake Placid during the months of Oct-March and want to check out the track etc. don't hesitate to get a hold of me, I also should be in the Alumni Database. In addition, The World Championships for Luge, Bobsled and Skeleton are all in Lake Placid in 2009, (my sister will be competing in Luge) if you have never seen a sliding sport in person this is a perfect and awesome opportunity to do so.

Fraternally,

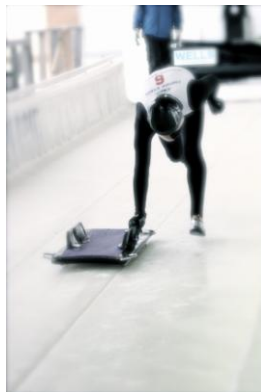

Ryan J. Hamlin

Class of '07

(Editor's Note: Ryan will have his own website soon. Stay tuned for details via Special Bulletins.)

How to Help Ryan and His Team Mates Reach Their Olympic Goal:

US BOBSLED & SKELETON FEDERATION

AMATEUR ATHLETE TRAINING FUND

Overview

The United States Bobsled & Skeleton Federation is pleased to offer the Amateur Athlete Training Fund (ATF) to help offset the training expenses of its athletes. Sponsors and donors may send donations to the ATF to benefit the general athlete pool, or a specific purpose. However, the USBSF maintains discretionary use of these funds if an athlete retires, is suspended, or leaves the sport. Additionally, in order to receive reimbursement of expenses through the ATF, the athlete must demonstrate the desire to participate and continue to participate in the sport of bobsled or skeleton. Attached is a list of qualifying expenses that athletes use as a guide to access these funds. The USBSF will reimburse athletes upon receipt of qualifying expense reports.

The ATF is intended to provide incentive for individual athletes to develop sponsorship to cover their individual bobsled and skeleton training needs while maintaining their amateur eligibility status.

Under joint supervision of the USBSF Finance Manager and Chief Executive Officer, the following general procedures will be observed.

The athlete, and the Chief Executive Officer's designate, will communicate regarding the specific dispersals from his/her training fund. The budget and audit committee of the USBSF will make final decisions with regards to any questionable expenditure.

USBSF Discretion

If an athlete helps to solicit donations to this fund, we will make every effort to assist that athlete in qualifying for those funds with the following exception:

Any remaining funds in an athlete's account upon his/her retirement, suspension, or death will be used to assist other active athletes. An athlete will be considered to be retired if he/she does not slide for one entire season, and has not sent a letter to the USBSF expressing his/her intent to slide in a subsequent season.

Funding Allocations

100% of donated/gifted funds are available to athletes.

Gifts vs. Donations

Funds provided to athletes who do not qualify as "donations" for the ATF are considered to be gifts from the donor to the athlete. Gifts should be made payable directly to the athletes rather than gifting through the Athletic Training Fund.

If the sponsorship funds are to be classified as a "gift", the sponsor will not receive credit for a tax-deductible donation. In this scenario, the USBSF will not need to report your income to the IRS.

The USBSF will assume all sponsorship funds received are "donations", except in the following three specific cases:

A sponsorship will be considered a "gift" if the sponsor sends a letter with the donation specifically stating the sponsorship is a "gift".

A sponsorship will be considered a "gift" if the USBSF is aware of any familial relationship between the donor and donee, regardless of intent by the donor.

A sponsorship will be considered a "gift" if the athlete's name appears anywhere on the check (even in the memo section).

If the sponsorship funds are classified as a "donation", the sponsor may take credit for a tax-deductible donation as IRS rules permit. In this scenario, if the athlete subsequently accesses $600 or more from those "donated" funds from his/her account during any calendar year, the USBSF will issue a 1099-MISC to the athlete by January 31 of the following year, meaning the athlete's income for the previous calendar year will be reported to the Internal Revenue Service. From there, it will be the athlete's responsibility to report this income on their annual tax return. The USBSF does not offer tax advice and donors and athletes should consult a tax advisor.

If you wish to make a tax-deductible donation to specifically go to Ryan Hamlin's training fund, make the check out the USBSF and then specify who the funds are for in a letter. Ryan's name can't appear on the check to be eligible for a tax-deductible donation.

You can mail the check to Ryan and he will deposit in his AFT. His address is:

A Letter of Appreciation from Current Sig Taus Regarding Fund Contributions

Just a word from the current Sig Taus. As many of you may know we have recently fallen into some trouble with the administration of the school. Our numbers were running low, and we accepted a pledge class of first semester freshman last fall. Looking back this was an act of poor judgment, but we are now working to get past that and continue on the legacy that Sig Tau has had over the years. On other fronts, we still are having the best parties, and accepting the courtesies of the eager female population of Geneseo. We will be relocating houses to 27 Orchard Street, which is two houses down the street. We are all very excited about the move and happy to finally be back into an actual house rather than apartments. After this semester is over we will be down to 16 brothers, but we have some good guys that are eligible and would like to pledge next semester, so this fraternity is far from dying out. We wanted to thank all of the alumni for your generosity, support, and devotion to the brotherhood. Although we ran into some trouble last semester we are working with the school to get back on their good graces, and Sig Tau is still THE premier Greek organization that it has always been.

Heley Rodriguez

Information for Donating to the Sig Tau Tax-Deductible Fund:

As part of their penalty the two Sig Taus must attend a conference in Indiana which will cost them $900 plus traveling expenses. A tax-deductible fund to aid the Sig Taus with these expenses has now been established with the assistance of the college. To make a tax-deductible donation please make a check payable to:

The Geneseo Foundation

Erwin Hall, Room 202
One College Circle
Geneseo, NY 14454

VERY IMPORTANT: WRITE Sigma Tau Psi on memo line. Also please enclose a note that says your check is going to the Sigma Tau Psi non-funded account. ANY amount will be greatly appreciated.

As of May 19, 2008 the fund totals $750.

A Letter from Cofounder Tom DeBello (Cofounder '63, G'65)

Dear Chuck,

It's been a long time since I graduated from Geneseo, and was an active Sig Tau member. I won't go on and on about the old days, save that experience for a drink or two at the Big Tree Inn. After I left Geneseo I spent a year at graduate school in Binghamton where I studied Anthropology and met the love of my life. But being young and thinking that there's time for everything, I took off after a year and joined the Peace Corps. I was sent to the island of Mindanao, in the Philippines where I was an ESL teacher. I hadn't wanted to be a teacher, I didn't have a teaching degree, and I may have been in the first or second class at Geneseo to have a BA that wasn't in teaching. But somehow I took to it and really enjoyed it.

When I got back to States I was hired as a junior high school social studies teacher, married Pat, now my wife of 39 years, and began a family in Smithtown, Long Island. Pat worked in Sachem School District as a school social worker, and volunteered at the Salvation Army. Some of you may remember Tim Clouser and Merilee Richardson, then his wife. We credit Tim, who taught and coached in Sachem for steering Pat in that direction. Over the years our family grew, Tom Jr. my oldest is now 35 and a social worker; Damian the next oldest is 31, works for Merrill Lynch, and married to Nicole a lawyer (they are our family's "Mahattanites"); Nick is 29, also a social worker, and Gabrielle is 28 (a social studies teacher – there had to be one!) and married to Seth Meier (an art teacher and a DK, but we like him anyway). Seth and Gabrielle are the parents of our first grandchild, Brody.

While teaching for 18 years I did what many of my colleagues did and took graduate courses, a master's in sociology, that started me teaching at the community college, and another master's that gave me a concentration in African studies. I guess the lure of the exotic was too much for me even then. Later on some friends in my department talked me into taking administrative courses with them at St. John's University. I think they wanted someone else to share the cost of gas. Today we'd probably have to stuff the car to afford the cost of the commute! Sure enough I found myself with a doctorate in educational administration and the first of three principal ships in the town that I now sometimes live in, Amityville, Long Island. Amityville is famous for two things, yes, the Amityville Horror, and Bruce Jordan (P'63,G'66). For Sig Tau's the order is reversed!

The last school that I was principal of a school also on Long Island, in Setauket. I had a great time there and it is through associations that came together because of my interest in learning styles, that I began my work overseas.

Since retiring I have worked for Buffalo State teaching in their overseas masters program aimed at teachers in American and International Schools. Aside for the teaching that I still really enjoy, I get to meet committed and dedicated teachers in Africa, Asia and Latin America! The best part of the traveling is that Pat joins me and together we have been able to go to places that we never would have seen otherwise.

Pat was with me in Singapore last November and decided to stay on Long Island to help Gabrielle with our grandson, so I made this trip on my own. While here for the month, I took advantage of a few days off and returned to the town where I began my teaching career. It was my first visit to the Philippines in 40 years. I was met at the airport by my former principal, now 86 yrs old and four of my former co teachers. Throughout my brief stay I met teachers I taught with and former students- most of whom are now grandparents! For me it was the real completion of a circle of my teaching career.

About five years ago Pat and I sold our home on Long Island and bought a house in Wilmington, North Carolina. We'd been going there since the 80's and two of my kids went to college in North Carolina. We love it and hope to spend more time there as we slow down on our travels. Right now we are planning a leisurely summer in Wilmington before going off to Swaziland and Uganda in the fall. So if you're in Wilmington, North Carolina this summer give us a call!

Fraternally yours,
Tom DeBello

Old Guards Meet at Myrtle Beach by Frank "Paco" Mayer (P'69,G'71)

I went on a golfing vacation to Myrtle Beach (4/11 - 4/19) with about 20 other guys as I have been doing in early April for the last 16 years... The weather was slightly cooler than normal, but still wore shorts almost every day. Peter Massari (P'69,G'71) joined us with his partner Bill Hammond and friend, Chris Hill for the first five days and Tom "Moonzo" Mooney (G'68,P'71) came down also, so we had a chance to play golf, dine out together, and have a few beers. Peter & Tom got a chance to meet some of my buddies from Massachusetts and they got to meet a couple of my old fraternity brothers. We had a great time! Can't go wrong with good friends, good beer, and g.....well, Golf. In true Sig Tau fashion Tom Mooney left to "drive" back home Tuesday morning (the day of his thirty-fifth anniversary with wife and former Arethusa, Jackie) Peter "suggested" he might want to send some flowers at least.... and after some moments of deep soul searching, he did! Smooth, Moonzo! Looking forward to getting together this summer with more of the guys to watch some of Peter's horses race, etc. As we get older and closer to retirement (those of us who are still working that is) it is great to be rekindling these old and treasured friendships. Good Stuff, and again much credit goes to Chuck's efforts with the newsletters and all, and to Peter Massari for the work he did last year putting together the Saratoga weekend; helps to turn back the clock... and God knows, that's a good thing ! (picture: Paco looking over Pete's shoulder, Pete, his friend Chris and Tom Mooney (his back) at the Dead Dog Saloon, Murrell's Inlet, S.C.)

6th Annual Saratoga Day at the Races Thursday, August 14th

The Geneseo Alumni Association sponsoring the 6th Annual Saratoga Day at the Races at the Saratoga Race Track (Saratoga, NY) on Thursday, August 14th. The day includes a nice buffet at the track in the Paddock Tent. Following the races there will be a dinner party at cofounder Bruce Jordan's (P'63,G'66) lovely home in the historic stockade area of Schenectady, NY. Several Old Guards and Friends from the Rochester and Eastern New York Region have participated in this yearly event. All Old Guards and Friends are welcome. Stay tuned for Special Bulletins for information regarding the purchasing of tickets.

Old Guard Notes.....

Bruce Jordan (P'63,G'66) has new productions of his hit play "Shear Madness" playing in Rome, Madrid, and Barcelona. Those productions started this spring and are continuing. Another continuing production of the comedy whodunit is in Athens, Greece, where it will soon be entering its ninth consecutive year of production. He's also signed on to direct "Shear Madness" at Capital Repertory in Albany in the summer of 2009. (For more Shear Madness News go to the Shear Madness website at: <https://www.shearmadness.com/?qclid=CIGb2qHd6ZECFRe6IgodHyzNXQ>)

For the past sixteen years he has been part of the thoroughbred racing scene. He and his partner, the late Sheila Richardson raced under the banner Devils Reign Farm. They were active in the New York bred program and their gelding Unwaquoited Love (by Waquoit-Vite Aureole) was named "Outstanding Three Year Old" at Finger Lakes Race Track several years ago. Jordan, who still retains ownership of the stable is awaiting the racing debut of his last homebred, a filly named "Our Sheila" in memory of his late partner. When not working in the theatre all over the country or going to the track at Saratoga, Jordan keeps busy traveling and acting as "Great Godfather" to the late Jack Sheehan's (Class of '66) three beautiful and talented granddaughters, Ellie, Jordan and Jacklyn.

At the end of February, Mick (P'68) Brenno and his wife, Jeannie, visited Al "Smitty" Smith (P'69,G'72) and his wife Patty for a couple of days down on the east coast of Florida before they headed over to the Gulf Coast for the month of March (they are expecting their second grandchild in early April). (picture: Al "Smitty" Smith and Mick Brenno)

Kathe Sheehan (G'67) reports that her late husband's namesake and grand daughter "Jackie" is now over one year old. As you know Jack Sheehan (P'63,G'66) was the founder of Sig Tau. Notice the smile that she obviously inherited from her grandfather. Kathe continues to run The Costumer with the help of her daughter and son-in-law Amanda and Eric Zenner.

Pete Massari (P'69, G'71) says...."I began to dabble in Harness Racing about 3 years ago. My wife and I had so much fun going to the various tracks around the state that we expanded our stable and now have 8 standard breds with one expecting a foal the end of March. They are all 2 and 3 year olds and hopefully will be racing in Buffalo-Batavia-Saratoga-Tioga Downs-Monticello -Yonkers-Pocono Downs -Freehold and The Meadowlands as well as Goshen (around the July 4th week of racing there) throughout the year. Hopefully many of the brothers will meet us and share in the excitement."

Sal Ciolino (P'68,G'70) says "the newsletter and the web page both bring back great memories of my years in Sig Tau. Keep up the good work and my regards to my brothers." Sal is Associate VP of Enrollment at Gettysburg College. He and his wife Kathleen have two daughters, Gina and Torre.

Old Guards Doug Dixon (P'68,G'17) and Bruce Parmiter (P'68,G'70) had lunch in Yorktown, VA – almost 38 years since their last conversation! While enjoying a quality lunch overlooking the York River, Doug noted that the beer and scenery had significantly improved since the last time they drank and talked in Geneseo – specifically, a local microbrew was better than a Jenny Cream Ale and Bruce’s wife Janet was very attractive. We also enjoyed the river view. The occasion was prompted by Bruce & his wife’s interest in possibly moving to the Virginia Tidewater area to enjoy their retirement years. Doug has been living in Tidewater since 1989 and Bruce saw Doug’s contact information in the Sig Tau Old Guard Newsletter (good job Chuck). Anyway, if the writer (Doug) recalls it correctly, Bruce and his wife currently live in northern Virginia, he has retired from the Postal Service Management, they have put their three children through Virginia Universities (UVA and JMU) and as soon as Janet can retire from her teaching job, a move to Tidewater is contemplated. Doug lives in Tidewater after moving there in 1989 to do graduate work at the Virginia Institute of Marine Science. After two children, Tidewater became home particularly since his current employer, the Electric Power Research Institute (EPRI) allows Doug to conduct work from a home office. Doug manages EPRI’s R&D program on fish protection for the electric power industry. Doug has three girls, one (Katie) a junior at William & Mary College and the younger (Caroline) a junior in high school. The age of the third girl is not known (keeps him out of trouble) though he is rumored to sleep with her (Gina). Enough of the travel log – the lunch, the beer, the scenery and the conversation were all great and they all look forward to possibly more of it in the future – go think, a couple of Sig Taus from NY wind up breaking bread & beer in the Colonial Williamsburg Virginia community! Yes, we are getting old!

Bruce adds...concerning the beer - the local brew pub produce was indeed better than a cream ale, but that is not to say cream ale isn't a fine brew. Danny Wegman has recently moved two of his stores to the Northern VA area (I am told they are the #1 and #2 grossing stores in the chain), and as the stores carry a 30 pack of cream ale for $10.99, I must admit to having sampled several of these memorable brews in the recent past. They always bring back many fine memories of Geneseo.

Fred Koch (P’68,G’69) writes.... please place me on the Sig Tau Old Guard active list. I have received the recent newsletters and have enjoyed reading them. As bio information, I am now retired (since 2002) from the Rochester School for the Deaf where I was the Assistant Superintendent. My wife, Jo-Ann (Geneseo class of 69) is also retired from RSD where she was the Director of Speech and Audiology programs. We are both involved with a lot of volunteer work and travel. We have two grown and married daughters (one an Assistant Principal in the Greece school district and the other a special ed. teacher in Williamsville school district and both also graduates of Geneseo where they were members of the Sigma Delta Tau sorority). Seeing the pictures and notes from other brothers from the late 60’s brings back great memories that I would never trade away. The newsletter is terrific and I look forward to receiving it.

Instead we will continue the new policy of distributing jokes via email to those who wish to receive them through the Sig Tau Joke Recipient mailings. If you are not on the list and wish to be included please notify me at ccuratal@rochester.rr.com. Also, please send the jokes that you wish to distribute to the same address. CAUTION: You must be open minded and have an appreciation for sometimes bawdy, raunchy and often X RATED jokes!
